FULLAM EXPECTED

Superintendent of Naval Academy Threatened to Resign if Not Backed Up.

CLASS PRESIDENTS

Admiral Warned Midshipmen Not to Associate With Men Originally Accused.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 12. - That Rear Admiral Fullam, superintendent of the Naval Academy, will be further drawn into the proceedings before the ourt of inquiry investigating irregularities in connection with examinaon papers was indicated by today's Presidents of three classes of midshipmen gave practically the same tes-timony to the effect that at a conference with the superintendent, after midshipmen had been recommended by him for dismissal for cheating in examinations. Admiral Fullam ack him up in the matter of the preinvestigation he would be inclined to resign. He further remarked that would rather go to sea in command a collier than stay at Annapolis nder such circumstances.

Presidents of Classes Present.

There were four presidents and a president-elect of the new first class

It is the intention of the Independence admiral make the statement.

Capt. Russell, president of the court, asked Bradfoot just before he left the stand what took place when he reported at the office of Supt. Fullam this morning, prior to coming to court. Broadfoot said he did not see the superintendent, but his aid. Lieut. Manley, warned him that if he allowed himself to become a defendant and accepted the counsel of the present defendants he would assume the status of those defendants. He was asked if anything had been said about being put under arrest and replied in the negative.

"Did Lieut. Manley discuss or attempt to discuss with you your testimony to be given before this court?" Capt. Russell asked. To this there also was a negative reply.

The and his classmates considered that L. P. Wessell and T. W. Harrison, jr., members of their class, who were recommended for dismissal, were honest and hat their honesty never had been questioned. He thought they ought to Lave been put on the stand as principals, ather than as winesses, at the investigation made by the board of officers before they were recommended for dismissal.

Asked if he thought he could speak for his classmates as fo their present feeling in the matter, he replied in the affirmative. The seffirment was that they would be going out of the service for the same thing that 40 per cent of the class did.

Saw "Dope" Going Around.

Broadfoot said he had seen a copy of the dope" going around, but did not pay any attention to it because it seemed too far advanced.

"We place most of the blame upon the man who came over here (to the language department) and got these exami-nations," said Broadfoot. "He was the one who got us into the whole trouble,

TO CONSTRUE WILL

Executors of James McDonald's Estate Do Not Understand Certain Provisions.

Suit to construe certain provisions of the last will of James McDonald, former European representative of the Standard Oil Company, who died in this city last January, was begun yesterday in the District Supreme Court by Lawrence Maxwell of Cincinnati and the Fulton Trust Company of New York, executors under the will. The defendants are the beneficiaries under the document, James Mc-Donald, jr.; Beulah McDonald, James McDonald, 3d; Robert A McDonald, Charlotte J. I. McDonald, in their own right, as trustee, and Arthur B. Campbell. The personal estate of Mr. McDonald is

The personal estate of Mr. McDonald is inventoried at $3.955,983.25.

The court is asked to determine what shares of stock of companies formerly subsidiary to the Standard Oil Company are to be paid to the widow, individually and as trustee of Arthur Campbell under sections G and H of the will. The executors desire to know if James McDonald, jr., is entitled to an additional annuity of $2,500 because of the birth of a child in May, subsequent to the death of the testator. The will provided that in addition to a stated annuity for himself the amount should be increased by $2,500 for each child living at the death of the testator.

Question has also arisen as to the ownership of thirty shares of the stock of the Farmers' and Traders Eank of Pocateilo, lidaho, made out to James Me-Donald, jr., but indorsed by him in blank. The son claims the stock belongs to him. Section G of the will provided that the widow should receive 500 shares of the Standard Oil Company and a pro rata of the stock of all the companies formerly subsidiaries of the Standard Oil Company, in addition to $150,000 due on an ante nuptial agreement. Section H provided that Mrs. McDonald should hold in trust for her son, Arthur B Campbell, 200 shares of Standard Oil, and a pro rata of the subsidiary companies stocks.

TO HEAD "THE NEW WINONA."

W. J. Bryan May Be President of Presbyterian Church Assembly. WARSAW, Ind., June 12 -- William J. Bryan, former Secretary of State, will be president of "the New Winona" when that assembly is reorganized next August, according to S. C. Dickey, the present manager of the assembly which is now under the control of a trustee.

trustee.

"Mr. Bryan has virtually accepted the position," said Mr. Dickey: "all that he asks is a new Winona, free from debt."

The assembly s debts are about $900, 000, and the property has been appraised at $100,000. Chautauqua meetings and Bible conferences are held by the assembly, which is controlled by the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Bryan has been prominent in the work of the organization for a number of years.

Purchase Extraordinary of a Manufacturer's Surplus Stock and Samples of Furniture At 1/3 and 1/2 Off Former Prices

We got word the other day that a certain well known manufacturer of High-grade Furniture wanted to clean-up his stock on hand and samples. We mmediately entered in negotiation and our bid for the entire lot was accepted.

The several carloads of Fine Furniture have just arrived and go on sale tomorrow at prices that will make this the most notable sale in the history of our furniture department. Such a sale, coming just when June brides and young couples are planning to buy furniture for their new homes, and housewives are fixing up for the summer, is of extraordinary interest and money-saving importance. Every piece of furniture in the sale measures up fully to the well known Goldenberg standard for quality.

The following facts and figures tell briefly of only a small part of the stock on sale. Our entire east side Seventh street windows are filled with a display of our special purchase, and a vast assortment of styles in all kinds of furniture for every room in the house will be found in our Furniture Department, "Across the Street."
